BULKY BCE EVIDENCE HAULED INTO COURT

VANCOUVER (CP)—The first evidence in the B.C. Supreme Court lawsuit over expropriation of the B.C. Electric began arriving at the Vancouver Court House today—in trucks.

Hundreds of pounds of BCE records now in the hands of the Crown-owned B.C. Hydro and Power Authority will be hauled into court and tendered as exhibits. The documents date as far back as 10 years.

TO TEACHER, WITH LOVE

Receiving one of the last apples she will get from devoted pupils is Miss Victoria Lemmax, who will retire in June after 43 years of teaching in Greater Victoria. First a teacher in Saanichton and Strawberry Vale School, and later principal of Tolmie Primary, Miss Lemmax estimated about 5,320 boys and girls have passed through her classes. Especially fond of the primary grades, she has taught in the same Grade 1 classroom since her appointment to Quadra Primary in 1924. "Teacher's pets" above are six-year-olds Fritz Nyholt and Alan Thibadeau.

HUNDREDS ARRESTED BY LISBON POLICE

LISBON (AP)—Police swept into the University of Lisbon at dawn today and arrested 87 student hunger strikers and more than 900 sympathizers in a crackdown on university demonstrators.

At a professor's urging, the demonstrators put up no resistance. But the hunger strikers, spearheading a boycott of classes by nearly 5,000 other students, vowed to continue their fast until Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's dictatorship gives in to their demands.

Red China Troops Among Refugees

HONG KONG (AP)—Hundreds of soldiers and militiamen—some carrying weapons with them—were among refugees streaming into this British Crown colony from Communist China Wednesday, local news papers report.

Government officials refused to comment on the reports, and reporters are barred from the border area.

Five Hong Kong newspapers, including the Conservative English-language Morning Post, carried the reports of the military refugees.

The Post said 300 military men crossed over Wednesday and that villagers in the border region reported Hong Kong police quickly surrounded them.

The Chinese-language New Life Evening Post said it had information from Canton "travel agent sources" that the Communists were planning to let 400,000 leave the country.

A traveller from Canton said he had been "extremely liberal" in issuing one-way exit permits in the colony, British officials remark.

U.S. Force Considered For Laos

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States leaders were reported today to be considering the possibility of more forceful action to prevent Laos from failing to pro-Communist forces if the spreading military crisis cannot be brought quickly under control.

President Kennedy and his chief diplomatic and military advisers were following developments in the Southeast Asian kingdom closely. They were understood to consider the events so far in the renewed fighting as both discouraging and alarming.

Kennedy met with his advisers at the White House late Thursday and further talks were held at the state department.

The pro-Western government stronghold of Nam Tha fell last Sunday and government forces have been in retreat since.

Without a strong base of military resistance against Red advances the whole country would soon be depopulated and so would the political policy which the United States has been pursuing in an effort to establish a permanent compromise peace. This policy calls for the formation of a coalition government under neutralist control headed by neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

The U.S. has charged that the Red assault on Nam Tha constituted a breach of the year-old cease-fire.

STILL HOPEFUL

Authorities here have no real hope the Reds will retreat from territory they have won, but still believe it might be possible for the cease-fire to be re-established.

Kennedy decided about a year ago against employing U.S. forces in Laos. The present crisis, it was learned, has caused Kennedy to order a new look at the whole situation.

India Elects President

NEW DELHI (AP)—Vice-President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, 73, has been elected president of India to succeed the retiring Rajendra Prasad, 77.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

In other developments, the growing controversy saw:

The 100,000-strong B.C. Federation of Labor repeat its demands for a government meat inspection service and circularizing all its union affiliates urging members to demand to see government inspection stamps before buying meat;

City council approved a motion favoring prosecution of butchers if necessary to safeguard consumers from unwholesome meat;

Coun. Sammon said the municipalities in the metro health region will have to pass enabling bylaws first before the temporary inspection can begin.

Draft copies of a bylaw prohibiting sale of uninspected meat—similar to the one thrown out by a city council policy reversal in 1956—will be prepared by the provincial government "in the next two or three days."

When Russian cosmonaut Gherman Titov was here Sunday he was asked about his religious feelings during his 17 orbits of the earth. He replied:

"I looked around. I saw no God nor angels."

"I don't think my belief in my God can be limited to any little trip into space I might take," was Glenn's answer to the same question.

Today the Vatican radio criticized Titov for his remark.

"It was no wonder that Titov saw neither God nor angels during his flight," said the Vatican broadcast.

"Neither did Glenn, a believer, see them. But he invoked them, certain that they saw him."

Quake Rocks Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A strong earthquake rocked Mexico City today, cracking walls, toppling debris into the streets, and causing a number of casualties.

Three workmen were feared dead near Acapulco where a highway tunnel under construction collapsed.

At least 42 persons were reported injured and taken to hospitals in the Mexico City area.

Laotians Flee Into Thailand

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Royal Laotian troops were reported fleeing across the Mekong River into friendly Thailand today as pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces seized Houei Sai more than 100 miles beyond the cease-fire line.

The Pathet Lao troops captured the government outpost on the Mekong border and completed their occupation of northwest Laos in defiance of a demand by neutralist leader Prince Souvanna Phouma that they halt their offensive.

SEIZE HOUEI SAI

The Vientiane defence ministry announced the pro-Communist forces moved into Houei Sai today after overrunning government troops fighting a rearguard action Wednesday.

The ministry declared government troops abandoned Houei Sai because they were weary from an arduous five-day retreat from Nam Tha and "were not in a position to defend Houei Sai."

A spokesman said the government had set up a new headquarters south of the fallen outpost under the command of Gen. La, the government's senior commander in northern Laos. Some government forces remained in the Houei Sai area to conduct harassing operations, he said.

In Bangkok, Thailand's interior minister, Gen. Praphas Charathip, said he had reports some 800 Laotian government troops and about 500 Laotian civilians had crossed into Thailand.

Some of the troops were reported wounded, indicating some kind of fight had been put up, he said. Praphas said the Laotian troops were disarmed as soon as they reached Thai territory and would be kept in restricted areas. He said the Laotian civilians would be screened carefully to weed out any possible Communist agents.

The Pathet Lao forces surged forward in a lightning offensive that advanced more than 100 miles in five days after the capture of Nam Tha, provincial capital near the Chinese border.

EDINBURGH—Mrs. Mary Campbell said today she has been cured of her special craving for cigarettes—she now smokes them instead of eating them.

"It was when I was pregnant that I first started eating cigarettes," she said.

The craving grew stronger and stronger until I was getting through as many as 100 a day," she said.

Mrs. Campbell said she finally sought medical advice when she began to get continually sick after eating cigarettes. And then there was the expense.

Cigarettes cost about 60 cents a pack in Britain and she said, "I was getting into debt." Doctors treated her in a hospital. She said the doctors told her "mental stress" caused her special craving.

"Now I am down to about 10 a day—but only to smoke," Mrs. Campbell said.

TORONTO—The heavy smoker is not much better than the drug addict, a research group told the American Psychiatric Association Thursday.

Dr. Peter H. Knapp, research professor at the Boston University Medical School, told the APA—in convention here—that heavy cigarette smokers smoke in an attempt to experience effects similar to those sought by some mild, but persistent, amphetamine addicts.

Ampphetamine is a nervous stimulant and the heavy smoker's continual "state of intoxication by nicotine" also produces state of hyperactivity, Dr. Knapp said.

TORONTO—A few days after the June 18 federal election was called, Stanley Taube decided he was going to be a candidate.

Taube, 28, says he could just as easily be a right-wing Liberal as a left-wing Progressive Conservative. Trouble was, by the time the lawyer decided to enter the race in Toronto Spadina, both parties had picked their candidates.

He didn't want to run in any other riding, and wouldn't run on an NDP or Social Credit ticket.

That, he said in an interview Thursday night, is why he has become one of the few men to campaign as an independent.

The bachelor has tough opposition in Conservative John Bassett, publisher of The Telegram, and Liberal Perry Ryan.

LONDON—Princess Anne will not be able to have the pony she has her heart set on because its owner refuses to sell it—"not even to the Queen."

The Daily Mail said today that Anne, 11, grew fond of the pony, Slipper, which she rode in an Ascot gymkhana over Easter.

The show-jumper is owned by Count Robert Ossisch's debutante daughter, Susan.

After the Queen borrowed the pony for Anne, the horsey types were convinced that the Queen would buy the animal for her," the Mail said.

"I could sell him any time I like," the count was quoted as saying, "but I wouldn't—not even to the Queen."

Liberals increased their national total of councilmen by more than one-third.

Labor, on Thursday's ballot alone, recouped some seats to spare its 322-seat loss in 1959 when the same groups of council vacancies were last contested.

Labor, before the elections, controlled 19 of the 28 London boroughs and on the 18 decided Thursday night showed no losses.

A meat inspection area will be proclaimed Oct. 1—establishing a permanent provincial inspection service in two private abattoirs that are planned by local operators.

"We can build our abattoir within 90 days," said F. J. McGrath, one of the operators planning such a project.

AMPLE POWERS

Mr. Sammon said he was assured by Mr. Richter that the government had ample powers to prevent private abattoirs used as inspection depots from becoming monopolies. This met the contention that inspection abattoirs should be public projects, he said.

The metro health board will call a special meeting on 24 hours' notice to recommend that the municipalities approve these bylaws as soon as the drafts are ready," said Mr. Sammon.

"This will give the municipalities an opportunity to protect their citizens.

UP TO COUNCILS

The health board is doing its job and now it is up to the municipal councils. I think they are prepared to co-operate now in the light of the clear evidence we now have that meat inspection is needed.

"We want all the municipalities to approve the bylaws before we act. We don't want any refugees."

Mr. Sammon said location and operation of the temporary inspection depot will be worked out immediately by the health board staff.

Farmers and cattle dealers will be able to bring carcasses of freshly-killed animals to the temporary depot for inspection.

Carcasses given the provincial stamp by the inspector will be allowed under the by-laws, to be sold to commercial establishments within the city along with federally-inspected meat that is imported from outside the province.

Low-Cost Milk For Schools

By ALEX YOUNG
(Times Ottawa Bureau)

ST. THOMAS, Ont. — Federal aid to put milk in schools at a low cost—in an effort to cut the dairy product surplus—became a new plank in the Liberal election platform Thursday.

Liberals Leader Lester Pearson announced at a campaign rally here as part of a Liberal "national nutrition program" designed to enlarge markets for dairy products.

"Perhaps the most important element in this policy," he said, "is the provision of milk at schools. In co-operation with the provinces and with the dairy industry, a new Liberal government will be ready to help in ensuring that the schools can distribute milk daily at a low cost."

The announcement was greeted by cheers from his sympathetic audience of about 1,000 in the Elgin Collegiate auditorium.

He said such a move was required because the Conservative government has not been able to solve the problem of the dairy surplus with its recent action to reduce the consumer price of butter.

"That is good, as far as it goes," he said. "Where we disagree with the present government is that we do not think it begins to solve the problem. A solution depends on expanding markets from all kinds of dairy and agricultural products."

Bid for New Export Markets

Not only would the Liberals spend "a great deal of time, energy and thought" to instituting a national nutrition program, but it also would bend every effort to obtain new export markets for Canadian produce.

The Liberal leader's campaign Thursday maintained the stepped-up momentum it established on its first extended foray into Tory territory Wednesday, in a tour from Toronto to Hamilton.

He made eight stops in his 130-mile trip from Hamilton to St. Thomas—again over what has been solidly Conservative ground.

He made eight speeches, each one improving in delivery and timing in a folksy, engaging way.

"We have no cause to be cocky," he said on the Greensward of the town square at

Bands, Majorettes, Clowns

The Liberal campaign strategists with Pearson have obviously developed among themselves a winning psychology. Whether they could sustain it and the hectic pace they have set until election day, and get the public into a Liberal frame of mind, was not yet certain.

That they had achieved some success in gathering more Liberal votes was evident in the kind of turn-outs they have been getting in the visit to the "Tory-lands" that is this tobacco-growing area of southwestern Ontario.

Moving into St. Thomas, for instance, the Pearson motorcade of 40 cars was joined by a parade featuring seven bands, four groups of majorettes, clowns and mounted members of the local riding club.

At least 4,000 people stood at curbs watching the parade, with Pearson in an open convertible at the head of it, smiling and waving. The crowds were not overly demonstrative, but one St. Thomas reporter said it would be a miracle if St. Thomas got enthusiastic about anything.

Pearson's day wasn't entirely rosy. At the park in Norwich, half a dozen young boys shouted "He's a fake" as some of their friends sought autographs from Pearson.

And half-way through the St. Thomas parade someone threw a raw egg at Pearson from an upper floor of a building. The egg fell short of the Liberal leader, but it splattered against the side of his car. He looked up but gave scarcely any other sign that he had noticed.

In his St. Thomas speech, Pearson toughened up in his criticism of the Diefenbaker government.

He was clearly annoyed at Diefenbaker's Brockville attack against Liberal defence policy. In polite tones he began by saying he agreed with Diefenbaker that Canada should get no nuclear weapons, and that the nuclear club should not be extended, so long as hope remained for disarmament.

Then he demanded, in less polite fashion, how the Tories could justify spending $200

GENEVA (Reuters) — The United States told the N-nation disarmament itself, accompanied on one side at the price of augmenting insecurity for the other."

"Spectacular measures for throughout steps toward disarmament must be taken by the sponsors of the peace plan."

Chief U.S. delegate Arthur Dean said:

"I do not say we must live with the existing degree of acute reciprocal danger, because it is the aim of our disarmament program to reduce this progressively and drastically as we proceed from stage to stage."

"Nevertheless, it is wholly unrealistic to think that the disarmament process itself can be a vehicle for altering the nature of the world military picture, even for the relatively short period during which we are implementing a disarmament treaty."

"There is no basic cure for the insecurity which we all live

The U.S. has suggested three stages each for the first two years of disarmament and a final stage for the third and final stage, while Russia wants total disarmament within four years.

Retrogression in Laos

FOR SOME TIME NOW MR. Khrushchev has been talking peace. He advocated a summit meeting (although this proposal was later abandoned), he has urged agreement on disarmament and offered various plans, he has expressed willingness to solve the Berlin problem without resort to arms, he has announced his basic doctrine (and even quarreled with his ally, Red China, over it) that the two world ideologies should live in peace and compete industrially and socially rather than militarily.

Mr. Khrushchev has made only one public exception to this peaceful program. He has supported the idea of "colonial wars" and said that he would aid oppressed peoples fighting to establish nationhood.

Because of this peaceful background to world affairs, therefore, the reports of Communist military activity in Laos come with disquieting impact.

It appears that the warnings of visiting correspondents were correct—the Red leaders in Laos have been quietly building up supplies of armaments during the past year of mutually agreed truce. Now come reports that armed Communist forces have captured a town in northern Laos and are moving on another, driving anti-Communist troops before them.

Laos cannot be placed in the category of colonial peoples struggling to free themselves of colonial status. The Laotian problem has from the first been one of Communist efforts—aided from across the national borders—to overthrow the established native government of the kingdom.

This campaign was opposed by the United States in an effort to prevent Communist domination of Southeast Asia. Original American intentions to maintain Laos as an anti-Communist state were toned down in the face of the rather chaotic reality existing there, and efforts over the past year have been to establish a neutral administration which would include Communist ministers in the government but would ally itself with neither East nor West.

Efforts to establish this regime have been continually hampered, but at least the country has been at peace. Now the Communist resort to armed force, in contravention of the truce, has raised the old dangers of active intervention by the great powers.

It may be that Russia has had no hand in this new move—may, indeed, even oppose it. If so, it may be Red China that is supporting the military drive. Or it may be merely the result of impatience and ambition in the local Communist Laos camp.

But whatever the immediate cause, the development imperils the present willingness of the West to negotiate with the East anywhere and may serve to destroy confidence in Communism's policies of co-existence as enunciated by Mr. Khrushchev.

Red China, it would seem, is in no position to embark on international forays, even by proxy, since its own economic circumstances are so precarious. But quite apart from the modern ideological struggle of infiltration in Southeast Asia, there is the historic pressure of China's burgeoning population upon the rice bowl of the south.

With Red China's population expected to reach a billion within another generation or two—it already embraces a quarter of the earth's inhabitants—the Laotian and Vietnamese dilemmas contain historic as well as ideological factors.

The problem—as yet unsolvable—inherent in this situation is one that should concern all mankind. It is a joint problem of global overpopulation, rather than a medium for competitive struggle.

A Woman's Place Is . . .

ACCORDING TO STUDIES made in the United States—where conditions are comparable to a degree with those in Canada—the working wife is not doing a man out of a job.

By and large, the women do not take work of interest to the male.

They work, according to U.S. Assistant Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson, who is also head of the Women's Bureau of the Labor Department, to support themselves and others, to help pay for a home, to finance the education of their children, and to meet large medical or other bills.

The number now employed—and the total includes roughly one-third of the married women in the United States—is going up and will continue to rise, the studies reveal. Where there were 8,500,000 employed about 10 years ago, 12,500,000 are now working and by 1970 the feminine work force may reach 18,000,000 to 20,000,000.

The demand is going up. While a majority of employed women is engaged in clerical work, the service field, in restaurants, laundries and similar places, claims a high proportion of the total, with professional jobs absorbing far fewer.

The demand for teachers will increase the employment magnet for more women in future, and the rate of employment seems to rise with the educational status.

The studies, of course, relate specifically to conditions in the United States. Comparable research would probably show a matching trend in Canada—and that trend, say the American researchers, is not throwing men out of work.

Shorter Campaigns

MR. PEARSON AND MR. DIEFENBAKER agree that federal election campaigns should be shortened. Both also agree that shorter campaigns would necessitate a voters' list kept continually up-to-date.

Maintenance of what is called a permanent voters' list would cost, according to the estimate of the country's chief electoral officer, $5,000,000 a year. Such a list might, of course, be compiled in a way to permit its use not only in federal elections, but also those of the provinces, cities and municipalities. Conceivably if all levels of government combined to finance it, the cost might be reasonable.

Apart from such financial considerations, the desirability of shortening campaigns is obvious. Leaders and candidates, with current means of transportation, need nothing like the amount of time they once required to get around the country. A national leader, for instance, could cover the provincial capitals from coast to coast, with acceptable rest periods, in about two weeks using aircraft. Furthermore, mass communication media now can speed the views of anyone across the continent in a small fraction of the time formerly used.

The saving in energy to the major politicians would be tremendous. Campaigns would be less inclined to bog down and a public eager to know all the facts available, could be given them crisply.

Mr. Pearson and Mr. Diefenbaker have discussed this issue and reached a measure of accord. When one of them forms a new government after June 18, let's have action that gives purpose to the discussions.

A Measure of Expiation

A RECENT FINANCIAL ACCOUNTING reveals the magnitude of West Germany's effort to make restitution in money to Jews who were the victims of Hitler's regime.

Most of that country's £280 million reparations, to the State of Israel has been paid. More than £1,000 million of compensation has been turned over to individual Jews who suffered persecution, and there is about as much again to come. Also £100 million has been paid to Jews who lost property in Germany, and another £160 million in property claims should be settled in the next few years.

Beyond this the Jewish Trust Corporation in Germany, a British company with sister bodies in French and American zones, has used revenues from Jewish proper-

A REFLECTION OF THE OUTLOOK

Fewer People Come Here, More Go Away

Times Ottawa Bureau

AS was pointed out in a previous article, the main reason for the Diefenbaker government's "improved" employment figures this year—improved only when compared with 1961—is the fact that the labor force has almost stopped growing.

A slowdown in the expansion of the labor force reflects a slowdown in the economy. And one of the main causes of the lag in the expansion of the labor force is that since the Diefenbaker government came to power, immigration has fallen steadily year by year; this in spite of the prime minister's election promises in 1957 and 1958 that if the Conservatives were elected they would undertake a vigorous immigration policy in co-operation with the provinces.

This promise was first made in a year which saw, as a result of Liberal immigration policies, no fewer than 282,000 people come to Canada.

How vigorously did the Diefenbaker government improve on this figure?

The following year saw the number of immigrants drop to 125,000.

In 1959 it dropped again, to 107,000.

In 1960 it was down to 101,000.

In 1961 it fell to below 72,000—the lowest since 1947.

Thus in the past four years the average number of people coming annually to Canada has been 102,000. In the previous four years, as a result of Liberal immigration policies, the average number was 177,000.

The reason for the sharp slump in the number of immigrants coming to Canada in 1961, was the government's policy of discouraging the entry of unskilled workers. Had the economy been expanding, as it should have been expanding, there would have been no need for such restrictions. The fact that the government felt it necessary to impose deliberately, restrictions of this kind was a confession of the state of the economy.

Of as much significance as the decreasing number of people who are coming to Canada is the increasing number of people who are leaving.

These figures are more difficult to come by than immigration totals. But in the six months ending on Dec. 31, 1960, 45,000 people left Canada to live in the United States. The comparable figure for the same period a year earlier was 42,000.

Thus it may be estimated that around 90,000 people leave this country each year for the United States alone. This estimate may be high. It has been cal-

We Can Have Sympathy for the Wanderers

THE news story of the London couple who got to New York by boat, then boarded a plane for Texas and found themselves back in London again, is one that should appeal to most readers. For most readers may detect something of the wandering travelers in themselves. The couple fortunately were provided with a return trip by air across the Atlantic and presumably were put on the right plane for Texas. They must have expected Texas to be big, after all the publicity, but not big enough to include a few thousand miles of salt water. It hasn't had that scenic asset since the very early age in the earth's history when the prime source of the Texas oil wells was laid down.

There seems to be a universal attraction in people and things that lose their way. Wasn't it Steinbeck who wrote a novel entitled "The Wayward Bus"? And the theme had a real-life counterpart on several occasions when fed-up bus drivers have dumped their passengers and taken off from the dull routine of a scheduled route for parts unknown.

People who board the wrong train, boat or plane and end up far from their destination usually raise a laugh. But there may also be a tinge of envy in our attitude toward them.

A journey that takes us to the wrong place—provided the place itself is not unpleasant—can have all the attraction of a surprise gift. And there is the thought that if the mistake was not our fault, the responsibility for getting us back on the track is also somebody else's. We have fun without added worry or expense.

The world today is witnessing a back-to-the-starting-point process that has very tragic overtones. In Hong Kong, harassed authorities are turning back refugees from Red China who get across the border or reach the port by sea, seeking escape from intolerable conditions at home.

The trouble is, the conditions in Hong Kong, with a population swollen beyond measure, are also intolerable. There is hardly standing room in the area, but more hopeful flock in every day.

Now they are caught, fed, given food to carry and sent back across the border.

To what? Imprisonment probably. Death possibly. Semi-starvation and miserable living conditions almost certainly.

In a world grown used to the tragedies of refugees and displaced persons, this unavoidable rejection of pitiable human creatures seeking a better life for themselves and often their children is more tragic.

To be aboard the wrong vehicle—if such a thing could possibly happen to them—might have serious mental and emotional repercussions on such people.

But on the other hand is it not possible that their extreme concern to depart correctly may cover up a secret wish that everything will go wrong in spite of their caution and precipitate them into an adventure they haven't the courage to seek directly? Well, it could be.

No Refuge

The world today is witnessing a back-to-the-starting-point process that has very tragic overtones. In Hong Kong, harassed authorities are turning back refugees from Red China who get across the border or reach the port by sea, seeking escape from intolerable conditions at home.

The trouble is, the conditions in Hong Kong, with a population swollen beyond measure, are also intolerable.

I suspect it's the passengers who are wrong.

As Our Readers See It

Saskatchewan Doctors

Judged by recent reports in the press, a great many of the medical profession in Saskatchewan are showing their true colors. The residents of this province will soon be in a position to determine those that are true humanitarians and those that are in practice for one purpose only. No doubt those falling in the second group will lose no time in destroying their dedication certificates. Believe it or not—I recently paid $15 for a routine eye examination.

Meat Inspection

As a farmer shipping lamb and beef into Victoria, I am naturally interested in the effects of meat inspection.

Of course meat must be inspected but producers and, in the long run, consumers will suffer if compulsory regulations force all slaughtering through privately owned abattoirs operated for profit.

Obviously the municipalities concerned should erect a public slaughterhouse where farmers may kill their cattle, hogs and sheep under supervision for a small fee. The matter of poultry is more complex.

I trust necessary regulations will not be enforced in such a way as to put the small man out of business.

Remember the small farmer is an institution on Southern Vancouver Island and his products are a yardstick with which to compare quality of imports.

Cat-Trapping

With reference to the current controversy concerning the trapping of cats, it is noted that your reporter states that the SPCA is "in the middle" which is hardly a reasonable position for a society supposed to exist for the protection of animals.

The representative of the SPCA is also quoted as saying that cats could create a health problem as carriers of disease—a statement which has never been medically proved to the writer's knowledge, but is another indication of the society's general attitude towards the feline species. In actuality cats serve to combat disease by keeping down the rat population, a fact which the anti-cat people conveniently overlook.

It would be interesting to know how the SPCA determine that a cat is "wild" in view of the common knowledge that the tamest of cats will resist in an uncertain manner the efforts of a stranger to capture it.

The legality of cat-trapping and the part the SPCA is taking in it is extremely doubtful and a recent legal opinion states that "Persons baiting and trapping cats or other domestic animals are liable to prosecution for the under the Criminal Code and also to civil action."

It is about time that the directors of the local SPCA were taking a closer look at the aims and objects of their organization.

'Wholly Undeserving'

Mr. Diefenbaker is now seeking re-election to the government of this country. His bid strikes this writer as wholly undeserving, in view of his dismal failure over the past five years.

Yet no such thought must exist in the PM's mind, busy as he is trying to convince the public that he and his ministers managed the nation's business well over the recent term.

But the truth is the administration has been a costly across-the-board failure. In no department has there been evidence of leadership.

Some of the government's apologists, hard pressed for something to write about, have claimed that foreign affairs has been one of the regime's most solid accomplishments. The claim, like so many others, is misleading. For as the knowledgeable Ottawa journalist, Gerald Waring, noted in his column in your newspaper on Saturday last, the record in this department is on a par with the rest.

It is quite true that Mr. Green has been working valiantly for progress on the disarmament question. But apart from this—which any Canadian foreign minister would likely be trying to do something about—there has been a notable lack of grip. The government's vacillation on the question of OAS membership is perhaps typical of its overall confusion in foreign affairs.

To the government's credit, however, it did honor during its mandate the nation's standing commitments, such as membership in NATO, inherited from the St. Laurent-Pearson administration. This, at least, must be said for it. Thus its credentials on the score of foreign affairs are far superior to those of Mr. Douglas and his group, who, if they should win, would be likely to add immeasurably to the confusion of our politics.

This proletarian is awaiting with interest a visit from Labor Minister Starr to these parts. Of all Mr. Diefenbaker's bankrupt ministers Mr. Starr has most to answer for to the working people, many of whom have a bone to pick with him concerning the catastrophic unemployment of recent years.

TRADE UNIONIST.

Thanks

May we through your column extend thanks to all those who assisted in the Goodwill discard drive on April 21 and 22. The residents of the Fairfield area responded most generously, providing Goodwill with a badly needed backlog of over 16,000 pounds of material. This was certainly outstanding co-operation and is most gratefully acknowledged by all the project participants.

Two Years Ago Today ...

A FEW days ago, while titled heads of several nations were joining Holland's Queen Julianne in a happy anniversary party, I saw in a newspaper a group picture of the celebrants. Among them was Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg.

Some time before, I had read an article on the visit of a high Luxembourg personage to the United States. It said that he was on this side of the Atlantic making plans for Luxembourg's 1,000th anniversary.

That's a pretty fair birthday. It makes Victoria feel quite young. Apart from Iceland, which did it all a few years ago, I don't remember any other country marking a similar milestone in continuous existence. By my figuring, that would fix Luxembourg's birth about 100 years before William and Harold wrote "1066 and All That."

Up to a couple of years ago, I'd placed Luxembourg in the category of those states almost more imaginary than real—a sort of light operetta locale, where the tenor romped about in elegant and colorful uniforms and the princess was young, sweet and soprano.

Almost two years ago to the day, Pat and I slid out of our bus seats in the big square by Luxembourg's railway station, crossed the wide avenue and took mid-morning refreshment at a sidewalk cafe there. Luxembourg's real enough. On that day it had a multitude of flags flying. What for? I wasn't quite sure. But I thought it considerate of the city.

Ten days and half a dozen countries later, we were back in Luxembourg. And four days after that we were in Luxembourg again. I thought of using it as a forwarding address.

Way over here, some of us have fairly quaint ideas about these little postage-stamp European states. The whole of Luxembourg is only 51 miles long and 35 wide at its broadest. The population is less than half of Greater Vancouver's. Yet Luxembourg has a thousand years' independent history behind it, stature in some of Europe's major events and, at one time, the strongest fortifications outside Gibraltar on the Continent.

We went to the Casemates one day with Harold and May Campbell and heard an amazing story. The Casemates are fortifications hewn out of solid rock, with tunnelled areas running to vast subterranean chambers. They have drilled a well a hundred—or was it some hundred—feet through the rock to get a continuous supply of water from the river below and some of the great rooms within the rock were formerly granaries.

As the story goes, Luxembourg experienced with monotonous regularity the impact of invading hordes over Europe's long history. The people built the Casemates at an early date and when the enemy swung down into its deeply ravined area, the Luxembourgers collected bag and baggage, including the family pig, and hit for the Casemates.

In the Casemates they weathered every siege but one in a long and beleaguered life.

Under the impact of present armaments, I suppose the Casemates would crumble like a brittle honeycomb. But Luxembourg does not seem to need them now.

By force of circumstances and experience, the people have learned to combine. The "lux" in Benelux is Luxembourg. It's part of the iron and steel community, has NATO membership, I believe, and belongs to the Common Market.

Its people, under attack during the centuries, have learned to live underground—as our civil defence people want us to learn—and have graduated from that type of existence. They have known sacrifice as one of the battlefields of Europe since Roman times and probably before.

There must be national enmities dating back through the ages. But they've learned to get along with other people simply as a matter of survival and self-improvement.

Maybe they have something to show us besides a magnificent view from the heights of Luxembourg city, looking down into ravines deep in lush green and flowers at this time of the year, as well as castles and monuments which come from storybooks.

Election Analysis:

Grassroot Organization
Boon to Sask. Liberals

Political reporters with newspapers in the F-P Publications, of which the Victoria Daily Times is a member, have written a series of articles on aspects of the federal election on June 18.

Today's article concerns the position of the Liberals in Saskatchewan.

By Pat O'Dwyer
SASKATOON (Special) — Haze Argue's nomination in Assiniboia federal riding gave western Liberalism a strong farm voice for the first time since the general election of March, 1958.

At that time, the late Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner went down to defeat, and in the intervening period, Liberal farm policy was put forward in the Commons on a make-do basis by Paul Martin and others in the Liberal opposition.

Just as Mr. Argue stood out as the powerful farm voice for the NDP in Ottawa, he will use his recognized oratorical powers on the hustings for the Liberals.

There are no Spartan thunderers of equal force in the NDP to fill the gap left by Mr. Argue.

Identical Ground

Insofar as farm problems, especially the continuing cost-price squeeze, are concerned, the economics involved are not changed by Mr. Argue's changeover. In opposition to Diefenbaker government farm programs, the Liberals and the NDP are on identical ground in certain respects.

Suggestions by the Tories that Mr. Argue's joining the Liberals will identify the Liberals as being as socialistic as the NDP, are shrugged off. Liberals point to the fact that the PCs, addicted like all the other parties to welfare statism, are far removed from Bay and James Street Toryism of the past.

Before Mr. Argue left the NPD, Ross Thatcher, Saskatchewan's Liberal leader, predicted that his party would win from seven to 11 seats in Saskatchewan. After Mr. Argue's dramatic move, Mr. Thatcher set the estimate of Saskatchewan federal victories at 11.

Examination of the provincial party's political health is helpful in assessing the federal field, because the provincial organization is placing all its facilities at the disposal of federal nominees. The maximum in co-operative effort is significant in itself, in contrast with federal-provincial conflicts of recent years.

Impressive Record

Organizationally, the provincial record is impressive. In 1960, an intensive year-long drive brought 10,800 grassroot members, with fees in the $2 and $5 ranges.

Liberals contend that Mr. Pearson's concept of the Atlantic Free Trade area is better in the long run than the government's short-run grain sales to Communist China. The question is: Can this ideology prevail over performance under which much of the surplus grain is sold, and delivery quotas eliminated?

PAROCHIAL

PLUG RELIGION

NEW YORK (AP)—Parochial school courses in mathematics, science and foreign languages are permeated with religious indoctrination, says a report to the National Council of Churches based on a survey of Roman Catholic textbooks.

The report, made by George R. La Noue for the council's department of religious liberty, contends that parochial schools should not get federal assistance of any kind.

It said problems in many mathematics texts were used to make students familiar with Catholic parish life, religious vocations, the saints and various other sectarian information.

HARKNESS ANSWERS CRITICISM OF FRIGATES

CALGARY (CP)—Defence Minister Harkness Thursday night answered criticism of new frigates being acquired by the Canadian Navy.

Liberal defence critic Paul Hellyer said earlier this week the purchase of frigates with a top speed less than that of missile-launching submarines was "pretty unrealistic."

Mr. Harkness said the hunting of submarines now is the duty of a combined force of surface craft, planes from Maritime bases and helicopters stationed on frigates and destroyer-escorts.

"It's impossible to have surface crafts of any great size which could travel as fast as submarines," said the defence minister in an interview. "Underwater craft do not have to contend with waves and winds."

Island Air Travel Shows Upsurge

An upsurge in traffic on international with its service to Seattle where U.S. Civil Aviation Board regulations must be observed.

This prohibits TCA from using the first-class seats to accommodate any overflow from the economy-class.

Several airlines in the U.S., Mr. Kolb said, had made a practice of deliberately over-selling economy space and then using first-class space for the extra passengers. This led to complaints and investigation and, as a result, CAB inspectors are now stringently enforcing seating regulations at U.S. airports.

Mr. Kolb also said there had been misunderstandings concerning the fact that the Viscount aircraft, which replaced the old DC3s on the triangle run have first-class seats as well as economy class.

As a result it is possible for a Vancouver-bound plane to take off with empty seats in the first-class section while economy-class passengers are left behind.

The old 28-seat DC3s were all one-class and operated as a separate section of the airline based in Vancouver. The Viscounts, 39 economy-class seats and 12 first-class, are based in Winnipeg and drawn for the triangle run and other runs as needed.

It would not be economically feasible, Mr. Kolb explained to maintain a fleet of economy-class only Viscounts for the West Coast service.

This led to another complication, Mr. Kolb said, due to the fact that the triangle run

Mutual Fund Selling Techniques Queried

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some tricks taught mutual fund salesmen were read from a training manual Wednesday at a U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission inquiry into whether there should be more federal control of securities selling.

SEC lawyer Meyer Eisenberg questioned whether sales tactics suggested in manual by Kalb, Voorhis and Co., a New York Stock Exchange brokerage firm, matched the standards avowed by the growing mutual fund industry. A partner in the firm, Ferdinand Nauheim, said he saw nothing unethical in the suggested techniques.

Nauheim's firm deals primarily in stocks. But he said it gets business from mutual funds in return for supplying ads.

FIRMS COMBINE

Export Sale For Produce Sought

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian fruit and vegetable processors have joined forces in a combined effort to sell their products in export markets under a single brand name.

A unified sales company and an industry council, both with the joint goal of overcoming the differential between higher Canadian prices and lower world prices, have been incorporated within the last week, trade sources here report.

The fruit and vegetable industry thus becomes the third industry to take advantage of federal legislation in 1960 which waives the strict terms of the Anti-Combines Act where co-operation for export business is concerned. Officials here said they aren't at liberty to identify the other two industries.

The brand name under which its products will be sold abroad hasn't yet been chosen.

But the organization itself has a snappy, multi-initial name—FAVEPEP, meaning Fruits and Vegetable Products Export Promotion.

The FAVEPEP council will provide the machinery for negotiations aimed at overcoming price spreads between domestic and overseas prices.

FORM NEW COMPANY

Favexsales Limited—standing for fruit and vegetables export sales—is the exporting company. Its charter limits it to the export market. It will have long-term agreements with Canadian processing firms agreeing to supply part or all of their exportable output of certain products. It will aim only at covering its costs.

Officials say it's hoped that the economies resulting from larger production and a central sales organization will cut unit costs.

The joining-for-export approach, adopted with success by industries in other countries, is seen as the best method of gaining export markets for small firms which are either intimidated at the prospect of tackling world competition or feel they can't afford the extra cost and effort.

The fruit and vegetable plan is ringed with safeguards. Besides a ban on sales to the Canadian market, there is a clause that no domestic producer is required to join, but the sales company must be available to all producers. Member firms can continue to export under their own brand names.

Deforming Drug Little Used Here

A pain-killing drug is believed to be responsible for four deformed babies in Calgary but local physicians believe Victoria children will be safe and no such cases have occurred to date.

The drug, thalidomide, was marketed late last year and early in 1962 by three different firms using separate brand names.

It was withdrawn in February by the companies on federal recommendation. United States authorities refused permission for the product to be sold there.

It is believed to cause deformities of the child's limbs if administered to the mother in the first three months of pregnancy.

"We used very little here," said a leading city gynecologist, who asked that his name not be used to comply with medical ethics.

"That was because we got it later and were slower to use it than some areas in the east."

He continued to say that little was used locally and most of that in the latter stages of pregnancy when the drug is believed to be harmless.

Dr. R. D. Buchanan, president of the Calgary and District Medical Society, told a newspaper there that there was no doubt in his mind the cause of deformities is a sedative containing thalidomide.

He said he knew of only one baby born deformed but the paper said three had been born with partially formed legs and one stillborn.

Other specialists contacted here agreed that there was little likelihood of any cases arising here.

3 MALFORMED BABIES

CALGARY (CP)—Three babies with malformities which have resulted from administration of the drug Thalidomide have been born in Calgary General Hospital. Dr. J. C. Johnson, the hospital's administrator, said Thursday.

Dr. R. D. Buchanan, president of the Calgary and District Medical Society, said the malformed infants may continue to be born until the end of September.

BLEACHERS FOR PGA TOURNEY

Pro Golf Boom Brings Fan Control Problems

By WILL GRIMES
NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP)—A ticket on the 40-yard line for a golf tournament? No longer just a fancy, this 44th Professional Golfers Association Championship at the Aronimink Golf Club July 19-22.

"We decided we had to do something drastic—golf crowds are getting completely out of hand," said Ed Carter, former PGA tournament director who is serving as consultant to the club on the tournament. "It's the first time we've ever attempted such a thing in a major championship."

"We expect the galleries here to be larger than any tournament except the Masters, with 20,000 or at least on each of the last two days. If Arnold Palmer should come here with the Masters, U.S. and British open titles under his belt, the crowds may double that."

That means real problems in gallery control. With golf booming as it is, it's getting so a guy is lucky to see a couple of shots."

SEATS ARE FREE

The bleacher seats will be set up around the ninth and 18th holes and at spots yet to be selected on the course. There won't be any extra charge and they won't be reserved.

The growing problem of gallery control was accentuated at the Masters Tournament in Augusta, Ga., this year when more than 40,000 turned out for the final two rounds. Spectators at Augusta are permitted considerable freedom in running across fairways but aren't allowed ladders, periscopes or chairs to stand on.

The U.S. Golf Association, which runs the open, attempts to solve the crowd problem by roping off the entire course and keeping spectators out of the playing area.

O'Dell One of Rare Breed — Proves Richards Wrong

Musial's Bid for Record Delayed by Hot Giant Ace

(Times News Services)

Billy O'Dell is one pitcher in a million—not because he has a 5-0 record for San Francisco Giants—but because he's one fellow about whom Paul Richards guessed wrong.

Richards is one of those “double dome” guys who's never supposed to be wrong when it comes to judging pitchers. He's got a fantastic string of successes with lame-armed and lame-brained pitchers who couldn't win for anybody but him. And just the opposite is supposed to be true: When Richards gives up on 'em, well, there just ain't any hope left.

Richards felt that way about O'Dell in November, 1959, when he traded O'Dell to the Giants for Jackie Brandt and two fellows who escape even his memory. O'Dell's performance in his first two years with the Giants generally supported Richards' judgment (8-13 in 1960 and 7-5 in 1961) but this year it's different.

O'Dell made it five in a row Thursday night when he pitched the Giants to a 6-0 victory over St. Louis Cardinals in a game halted after 8½ innings by a heavy rain. The victory restored the Giants' National League lead over the Cardinals and Los Angeles Dodgers to four games.

GOOD SUPPORT

Willie McCovey hit a three-run homer and Felipe Alou had a two-run double to lead an 11-hit attack that dealt Bob Gibson his second defeat against three wins. O'Dell also held Stan Musial hitless, leaving the great Cardinal star still one hit short of Hans Wagner's all-time league mark of 3,430 hits during a career.

Los Angeles Dodgers' beat Houston, 6-2, and Milwaukee Braves defeated Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3, in other NL games. In the American League, Early Wynn scored the 29th victory of his career as Chicago White Sox beat Washington Senators, 3-1. Baltimore Orioles topped Kansas City A's, 5-2. Los Angeles Angels nudged Detroit Tigers, 6-4, and Cleveland Indians routed Minnesota Twins, 9-4.

SMALL HOUSE

Don Drysdale yielded homers to Roman Mejias and Carl Warwick but allowed only one other hit in scoring his fifth victory. Drysdale retired 17 consecutive batters until Warwick's homer in the ninth. Frank Bolling's ninth-inning homer gave the Braves their victory after Mack Jones' three-run homer in the eighth produced a 3-3 tie. Hank Fischer picked up the win for one scoreless inning of relief pitching before 2,746, smallest crowd in the history of Milwaukee's County Stadium.

Wynn moved within six wins of his 300-lifetime victory goal with a seven-hit, four-strikeout performance at Washington. Cleveland's Jim Perry threw home runs balls to the first two Minnesota batters of the game—Lenny Green and Vic Power—but then settled down with an eight-hitter that brought him his second victory.

Harvey said Muzz Patrick (Rangers' general manager) told him “to take my time... there's no hurry.” Harvey said that he had been happy with Rangers last season and that his hesitation to remain with them next year was “just a family matter.”

“I don't like to move the children from city to city and from school to school. I've never given any thought to living in New York. I have a business and a home here,” the 37-year-old NHL veteran said.

“I'd like to remain in Montreal,” Harvey said, “but the Rangers have asked me to keep an open mind until they can talk to me.”

“They've been good to me so I think I owe them that much.” Harvey, who joined the Rangers last year after 14 seasons with Montreal Canadiens, polled 102 points out of a possible 180 in the voting. Pierre Pilote of Chicago Black Hawks was runnerup with 47, followed closely by Montreal's Jean-Guy Talbot, third, with 46. Carl Brewer of Toronto Maple Leafs was fourth with 41 points.

BIG EARLY LEAD

Harvey polled 83 points at the half-way mark for a commanding lead but slowed to 19 in the second half. Pilote, on the other hand, polled a mere two on the first ballot, but 45 in the second half. Talbot was given 13 points in the first half, 33 in the second.

The Norris Trophy was first presented in 1953-54 to Red Kelly, then of Detroit. Tom Johnson of Montreal won it in 1953-59 and Harvey every other year.

HARVEY PONDERS FUTURE

'Best in NHL' All Through?

MONTREAL—The seven-time winner of the National Hockey League's most outstanding defenceman award will meet with New York Rangers' officials next week to discuss his puck future.

Awarded the Norris Memorial Trophy and $1,000 Thursday for the seventh time, Rangers' playing-coach Doug Harvey said today: “I don't plan to decide right then if I'm coming back next season, but if they ask me for a definite answer I can give one.”

Harvey said Muzz Patrick (Rangers' general manager) told him “to take my time... there's no hurry.”

Harvey said that he had been happy with Rangers last season and that his hesitation to remain with them next year was “just a family matter.”

“I don't like to move the children from city to city and from school to school. I've never given any thought to living in New York. I have a business and a home here,” the 37-year-old NHL veteran said.

TENNIS TIPS

By JOHN BASSETT

(Former Davis Cup player)

RETURN OF SERVE

There are three basic returns of serve, and each has its use in a specific situation.

The first is what I call the easy return. This is accomplished by just concentrating on getting the ball back and can be used if the opponent does not make a practice of coming to net behind his serve.

The second type of return is the chip return, and is made by a short stroke of the ball just after it bounces.

The best use of the chip return is against a net-rushing opponent—because the ball will land at his feet.

Another good time to use it is when you wish to approach the net yourself. As the chip is made close by the service line, proximity to the net is already achieved.

The third return is the deep hard crosscourt. This, alternately occasionally with the chip, is perhaps the best standard return. It keeps your opponent honest, and is always hard to handle. There is more chance for error, however.

TENNIS TIPS FOR STUDENTS

TIME OUT!

Imperials Go To Top of List

Imperials believe in doing things the hard way. They used three pitchers and waited until the last inning Thursday before wrapping up Morrisons 12-7 for their second straight Heywood Avenue Men's Softball League victory.

Success left Imperials atop of the league with a perfect 2-0 mark.

Morrisons are several fathoms below—they reside in the basement with an 0-2 record—but for a junior team they have been giving a decent account of themselves.

Rolle Clark went all the way

"Atta way to lose your over confidence all at once, Kid!"

GOLF SCHOOL

By SAM SNEAD

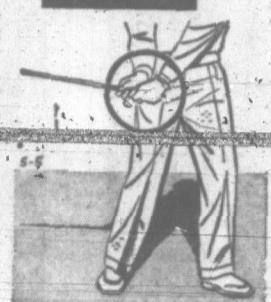

When should the wrists be uncocked in the downswing? Can you keep them cocked too long?

I keep my wrists fully cocked until they reach hip-height on the downswing. Notice in today's illustration that my hands have reached that point, and are still fully cocked. Now is when I start snapping them around to provide extra and extra power in my swing. Some golfers never uncock the wrists for just a whisper longer. The danger, however, is in snapping those wrists out straight before your hands reach your hips. This causes an early loss of power resulting in a weak swing.

WHEN SHOULD WRISTS UNCOCK ON DOWNSWING?

Avoid wrist-uncocking in downswing

After Difficult Times

Doman Empire Stands Firm

The Doman Story begins around the turn of the century when in 1900 Doman Singh came to Vancouver Island from the village of Paldi, India and helped to establish the village of Paldi in the new world on the road to Lake Cowichan. Here he started an empire of lumbering. He brought members of his family and friends to help him build up a business.

raising her sons. The eldest was 11 years old at the time. This son, Herb Doman, was soon to become the head of the House of Doman, and had to take up where his late father had left off.

We find Herb Doman at the age of 14 with only a grade 8 education starting out in the business world, to re-establish the Doman name as a leading name in the lumber business.

First he bought an old broken-down truck and began hauling wood fuel between Duncan and Lake Cowichan.

The truck broke down too often and a friend in the automobile business offered him a new truck on credit. He was then able to go into the trucking business as well and so the first two of the present diversified interests of the Doman began.

During this period, the two younger brothers finished their schooling and joined Herb Doman. Today Ted Doman manages the Victoria lumber business and Gordon Doman the transport companies at the Duncan head office of the company.

With the establishment of a transport business Doman was able to offer a growing fleet of trucks and the first service of heavy lumber hauling from the Cowichan Valley replacing rail lumber shipments.

Paralleling the transport company development was the growth of the lumber company. The year 1953 saw the beginning of the Doman Lumber Co. Ltd. as it is today. The first lumber was sold by the truck load in Victoria and today Doman's does one of the largest lumber businesses on the Island using the latest methods of packaging lumber by size and grade.

By now Herb Doman was age 21 and already a success.

fully established businessman. Today the Doman Transport Co. and associated companies are hauling hundreds of millions of board feet of lumber a year on Vancouver Island to the docks for shipment overseas or to the mainland.

The company's rolling stock now includes 50 heavy trucks and trailers.

The transport business in addition is hauling all types of heavy goods from Vancouver Island to the Mainland and return, in addition to all B.C. points.

This amounts to over 3,000 crossings of the gulf per year.

Depots of the company are located at Victoria, Duncan, Chemainus, Nanaimo and Vancouver.

Today Doman's Lumber Co. Ltd. sells over 20,000,000 board feet of lumber per year with established wholesale and contractor supply outlets in Victoria, Duncan, Nanaimo and Vancouver.

Soon the company will offer new facilities in this division with the largest lumber stocks in the Victoria area.

The company maintains a 30 acre lumber assembly depot on the Trans-Canada Highway near Chemainus, stocking millions of board feet.

The retail division of the company operates Doman's Building Supply Centres at Duncan and Nanaimo, and this year sees the opening of the new Victoria store at 280 Bay Street across the Point Ellice Bridge.

This store is the most modern and in fact the first of its kind in Canada offering a complete line of lumber and all building materials for the do-it-yourself trade and home builder.

The store offers complete services, and is situated in a beautiful and central location. It carries the name of Doman into a new and exciting field of enterprise.

Now, 57 years after its beginning, the Doman Lumber Co. is forging ahead in new fields of endeavor and, of course, Herb Doman at 30 with a family of his own and wide community interests, is a young modern lumberman who remembers the difficult days that have gone, into making his father's pioneer interests into a modern successfully diversified company.

BY HELPING ASIA

Europe, America Stand to Gain

Communism has a natural appeal for the hungry, down-trodden peoples of Asia and it is up to democratic countries to show that their living conditions can be improved without totalitarian methods. His Excellency B. N. Chakravarty, India's high commissioner in Canada, said here Thursday.

In a forthright speech to Victoria Rotary Club, Mr. Chakravarty said:

"It is not only from the generosity of their hearts that Europe and America are helping the peoples of Asia. From the purely selfish point of view, they stand to gain from improved living standards among the nearly two billion peoples of Asia."

Such an improvement, he added, would not only counteract the influence of Communism but would open up a vast market for European and American produce.

"Fortunately this problem is attracting world attention on an increasing scale."

Mr. Chakravarty warned that "a long period of subjection to other races" has made the peoples of Asia "very wary of anything which savors of domination, and our relations will suffer if there is any move in that direction."

At the same time, he said, the under-developed countries should be "less suspicious" of democratic countries which offer them assistance.

DEMOCRATIC

"There is an upsurge of nationalism in Asia today but most of the nationalist movements are democratic in nature and they do get inspiration from the political thinkers of the West."

"Asia stretches out her hand in friendship to Europe and America and, if it is accepted, there will be a new era of cooperation between East and West. The old relations based on domination and economic exploitation will have to be changed to achieve this result."

He continued: "Europe cannot expect any blind allegiance from Asia, but she can expect the closest cooperation in the maintenance of peace."

Mr. Chakravarty said Asia is vitally concerned in the preservation of world peace, without which it cannot solve the immediate human problems of food, clothing, education and health.

MORE FOOD

"The most urgent need of these countries is to develop their economy and raise their food production."

Europe and America, he said, have contributed very greatly to material progress in Asia, but "they must recognize that the old days of colonialism have gone, and the last traces of it will eventually be swept away."

"The countries of Asia are bound to develop their own foreign policies and this political orientation must be accepted."

FRANCE CUTS ARMY FORCE

PARIS (Reuters) — France will reduce its army strength by 200,000 men in the coming year by progressive reduction of the conscription term, the armed forces ministry announced Thursday.

Progressive cuts in the conscription term will bring compulsory military service down to 18 months after May 1, 1963, the ministry said in a communiqué.

Doman Empire Stands Firm

The Doman Story begins around the turn of the century when in 1900 Doman Singh came to Vancouver Island from the village of Paldi, India and helped to establish the village of Paldi in the new world on the road to Lake Cowichan. Here he started an empire of lumbering. He brought members of his family and friends to help him build up a business.

A giant sawmill and lumber business was built up in the 1920's which influenced others to come and out of which grew the lumber empires of today, paralleling the historical development of B.C.

Doman Singh went back to India, married and brought his wife to the land of the giant forests. Three sons were born. Then came the depression and the Doman interests waned.

Following the death of Doman Singh, his wife continued to run the business until 1935 when she sold it to Ted Doman. Ted Doman then took over the business and expanded it into what it is today.

The original Doman Lumber Co. established in 1905 became inactive. However, the highly respected Doman family remained in the Lake Cowichan district.

104 'Sons' Sent to Jail This Year

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A total of 104 radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors have been sent to prison on charges of terrorism since the start of the year. A total of 182 have been arrested since a mass RCMP crackdown Nov. 3. Sect members still to be tried include 70 members of the ruling fraternal council who are charged with attempting to intimidate the legislature of British Columbia and the Parliament of Canada.

The spring assize, last of several assizes that have been held since January, closed Thursday with the sentencing of several Freedomites found guilty of terrorism earlier.

It was not immediately known if another special assize would be called to deal with others.

In Thursday's group were nine Freedomites charged with conspiracy to place bombs around a massive power pylon of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, serving B.C.'s east Kootenays.

All were sentenced to 15 years, and six of the nine received additional concurrent terms of 15 years for actually placing dynamite at the 300-foot structure, destroyed March 6.

FOLLOWS BELIEF

Bill Arshenkoff, who with his brother John was found guilty of both charges, said during his trial: "We did this by our great belief in our prophesy which states we will leave Canada through Canadian jails."

Tim A., Pete, Paul and Andrew Makortoff, Jack W. Kalmakoff, Phillip Arshenkoff, Harry W. Rezansoff were also sentenced for conspiracy and Kalmakoff, Andrew Makortoff and Rezansoff received the additional sentence for placing of the bombs.

Other sentences:

Mary Malakoff and Nasta Hadkin, two years in Kingston, Ont., penitentiary for burning down a Doukhobor home; Joe Osloff, three years on the same charge; Paul Rezansoff five years for attempted arson; Peter P. Rezansoff, eight years for placing a bomb by a telephone pole and three years concurrent for unlawful possession of explosives; Bill W. Makortoff, eight years for bombing a power pole and three years concurrent for possession.

with a bare minimum of spoken commands.

The ceremony originated in the 17th century, when it was the custom of different infantry regiments to be characterized by a particular color. The facing of the uniforms and the color (flag) of each regiment were the same, for purposes of identity. This served to associate each soldier with his regiment, while the color was used as a rallying point during battle.

It was therefore important that each man know and recognize his regiment's color so he could follow it in battle. To make sure of this, the color was trooped, or paraded, through the ranks for all to see.

The regimental color is also treasured because it bears a record of battle honors and serves as a symbol of the regiment's past.

Merchant Marine Buildup Advocated by Isherwood

By MICHAEL ROSE

Victoria Liberal candidate Foster Isherwood nailed three planks to his election platform

Thursday evening and spat attacks at Prime Minister Diefenbaker's government.

He called for a new merchant marine fleet, a modern coast guard and a contributory old-age pension plan.

Mr. Isherwood advocated building "modern, merchant, sea-going ships" to handle the export of wheat on credit to Red China.

He said it was a "crying shame" that it was sent in "ships that are not Canadian".

The candidate told an audience of 27 in the James Bay Community Hall of the need for a coast guard.

"I know that we on the West Coast feel that an efficient, modernized coast guard is certainly one of the basic cornerstones of our modern society."

He promised that, if elected, he would press for the building of a merchant fleet in local shipyards across the country with government assistance.

"If we can subsidize the wheat farmer of the Prairie Provinces it is time we did something for our merchant marine."

"We have much to be proud of in Canada but our government gives us little to show for it."

He also explained and advocated the Liberal plan for a contributory old-age pension.

Water System

To Cost $150,000

LADYSMITH — A new water system for the Ladysmith district will cost about $150,000, the village commission has learned.

The estimate was prepared by consulting engineer Thor Christensen. If his plan is approved, water from the present sources at Stocking Lake and Holland Creek will be brought to the village in new pipes and over new routes.

Some of the pipes now in service are wooden stave conduits which were installed 25 to 35 years ago.

Water users will have to pay for the overhaul if debts bearing 6 per cent interest are sold.

Poor water pressure during the summer months has plagued this community for several years and the village commission has frequently come under criticism.

He judged it to be from 16 to 20 feet long. It swam past the paper mill dock toward Quadra Island, then headed south toward Campbell River, four miles away.

Work on the Alberni district school, which was started in November, came to a halt several weeks ago.

Kangaroo-Like Sea Monster Sighted Again.

Campbell River's friendly and benign sea monster has been sighted again.

Named Klamathosaurus by the townsfolk, who are pleased as punch at having their own rival to Victoria's Cadborosaurus, he was seen Tuesday morning by five men as he swam in Duncan Bay.

who were further away Feb. 6 by Mr. and Mrs. Alan MacLean, who also described it years, and called it "Wunzees."

"One thing is certain: this is a dirty ivory color and from below," because of its ability to thrust its head in and out of the water.

It was Mrs. MacLean who said it had a "rather pleasant, friendly face."

Indians of the Klamath band here said they had known of the local Indian band.

Trustees Cancel Victoria Firm's School Contract

PORT ALBERNI — Board of School District 70 voted this week to cancel a contract held by Heath Construction Ltd. of Victoria for the building of a retarded children's school here.

If the action proceeds it will mean the Victoria firm has lost two contracts within a week. It was only last week that Cowichan School Board cancelled a contract with the firm for construction of an administration building.

Work on the Alberni district school, which was started in November, came to a halt several weeks ago.

Student Sentenced To Hang

VANCOUVER (CP) — Eric Lifton, 22, a New Hampshire student who told of free-spending travels on a stolen credit card, Thursday was found guilty of capital murder in a Feb. 9 double shooting at a Vancouver hotel.

He was sentenced to be hanged July 31.

Lifton was charged following the shooting of detective Larry Short and Larry Kingston, assistant manager of the Bayshore Inn. He was tried for the murder of the detective, but also faces a murder charge in Kingston's death.

An assize court jury recommended clemency and Mr. Justice Arthur Lord said he would include the recommendation in a report to the justice department.

Lifton took the verdict quietly, but he almost broke down as he thanked the judge, jury, his lawyer, and his father, who attended the trial.

TOOK CREDIT CARD

He had testified in his own defence earlier that Det. Short fired the first shot in a gun battle in Lifton's room. Short, Kingston and airline agent Paul Egley had gone to the room to question him about an airline credit card.

Lifton said he had taken the card from a hotel room in Puerto Rico and used it to make trips to Hawaii, Montreal, various parts of the United States, and Vancouver.

He said he drew a gun on the three men when Egley started to make a telephone call in the room. Short had asked him to put the gun down—"we will be able to work this thing out"—but Lifton ordered the men to lie on the floor.

"... I noticed Short moving around from side to side. I said: 'What are you doing? Stop wriggling around.' I didn't know at the time he had pulled his gun out... and shot me. I was shot in the stomach."

Lifton said he fell back into a chair and down to his knees.

"As the firing was going on I remember distinctly seeing red flashes coming right at my face. I don't know what it was."

He said he pushed himself to his feet and walked from the room. He was apprehended minutes later by a police constable in a taxi.

Defence counsel William A. Craig asked Lifton:

"Did you intend to cause death or harm to anyone in the room?"

"No. I never intended for that gun to go off."

The all-male jury considered its verdict for just over an hour. It returned once to enquire whether a capital murder charge could be reduced to non-capital in a case where the accused knew the victim was a police officer.

Mr. Justice Lord said the answer was no and quoted the Criminal Code on the point.

Lifton said he bought the gun in Boston with the idea of committing suicide with it if he was ever caught in his spree.

The Show's the Thing—But

A ROOF OVER YOUR HEAD IS IMPORTANT TOO

Every effort is being made to overcome a critical housing situation which is developing at Victoria Riding Academy. Record entry list for three horse shows on the Victoria Day holiday weekend has hammers and saws going full tilt. Temporary stalls are being built in the academy's covered practice ring to help accommodate at least 27 mainland horses coming for the competition, and show manager Don Carley, shown here looking over the emergency shelter work with a competitor, Grady Gay, estimates total entries will reach between 112 and 115. There will be a junior show on Saturday, May 19, a dressage show on Sunday and a senior, open show on Monday, all three starting at 9 a.m. on the academy grounds, Cedar Hill Cross Road, next to Uplands Golf Club.

MONTE ROBERTS

How to Start the day right, or, telephones should be seen and not heard prior to 9 a.m.

Phone rings, I answer, voice, feminine, says: Is that you?

Yes.

Well don't you think it's awful? I mean really, and such a good cause.

Whatwhatwhat?

I mean, I love animals just as you do, and all that, but I think something should be done, really I do, don't you?

Done about what?

Well, the Cats Protection League had a bazaar, and it made $500 and the Protestant Orphanage had a bazaar, and it only made $300, and I think you should do something about it in your column, don't you? Thank you.

You're welcome.

Phone rings again, I answer (feel that I am) and voice, masculine, says:

Is that you?

Yes.

I love animals and all that, just the way you do, except cats. I don't like cats because they are killers. Something should be done.

Whatwhatwhat?

You should do something about it in your column. Cats are killing off all the birds.

They are?

Yes. I live in Saanich. I've lived in Saanich for years. Every year, there are fewer birds. All due to the cats. You know that tourist slogan we have, the slogan Follow the Birds to Victoria? Pretty soon there won't be any birds to follow. Few years ago, there were all kinds of birds. Now there are hardly any birds at all. All due to the cats. Cats are killers. I love animals, but not cats. Cats are killers. You should do something about it in your column. . . .

Telephones should be seen and not heard, prior to 9 a.m.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Both sections of the Junior Branch of the Victoria Naval History Society will meet on Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Monterey parking lot to take part in a picnic being held at Westholme.

Members of leaders' section will be on duty at the Nature House, Francis Park, and will conduct nature walks around the trails.

Honorary life membership in the University of British Columbia Alumni Association has been presented to Mayor A. H. Wilson.

The mayor, who headed the recent fund-raising campaign for Victoria College and was chairman of the college development council until his election as chief magistrate last December, was nominated by David Ferne, president of the Victoria branch of the association. He was seconded by college principal Dr. Harry Hickman.

Membership in the Victoria branch of the United Nations Association in Canada, which last year had one of the largest increases in the country, is still rising steadily.

Since the beginning of 1962, there have been 45 new applications for membership, according to a report by Dr. Hartley Sargent, president of the local branch.

Increased membership is the result of a campaign by the Victoria association for new members and renewals of existing memberships.

The Retired Employees' Association of the Canadian Pacific Services will meet in the Flamingo Room of the Crystal Garden on Tuesday at 2 p.m. This is the last meeting until September.

Vancouver Island branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada will hold a reception and dinner at the Art Gallery, 1040 Moss Street, at 7 on Saturday evening.

Grandstand Viewpoints At Hill Climb

Spectators at the Victoria Centennial Hill Climb Saturday and Sunday have been promised an unusually good view of the competition at Mount Douglas.

High banks bordering the mile-long road up the mountain will provide fans with an unparalleled view of sports cars and racers as they make the 700-foot climb to the summit.

40 CARS

An estimated 40 cars, as many as can be comfortably accommodated, will take part in the event.

Ample parking will be available around the mountain and trails through the woods lead to the roadside.

Officials of the Victoria Motor Sports Club, which is organizing the event, have warned that strict safety regulations will be in effect with the co-operation of the Saanich police force.

"One foolish action by a spectator," said a spokesman, "can cause the death of 10 people."

"Our drivers are all experienced and skilled and if the people co-operate with the marshals we will have a safe and exciting meet."

PRACTICE

Practice will be held Saturday all day and Sunday morning. The climb will start at 12:30 p.m. and each car will make several runs.

Programs will be available with a complete list of cars and drivers and a running commentary will be piped through loud speakers along the route.

Air Cadets Win Scholarships, Visits to U.S.

One of 15 Canadian air cadets to participate in an exchange visit to the United States this summer is William Chatterton, 6704 Elliott Road.

He will visit New York, Texas, and Washington, D.C. on the three-week tour.

John Dodd, 1460 Grant Street, will go to Camp Borden, Ontario, early in July for a seven weeks senior leaders' course at the RCAF base.

Flying training scholarships have been awarded to two air cadets, Christopher Tuck of 1382 St. Patrick, and Tommy Mackenzie of Sidney, for 35 hours of flight instruction at Victoria Flying Club in July.

On successful completion of the course, they qualify for air cadet wings and private pilots' licenses.

Higher Cost Approved For School Additions

Work will proceed immediately on additions to Tillicum School, but at a cost over that allotted in a school building referendum passed last October.

Former CCF leader M. J. Coldwell will address a rally in support of local New Democratic Party candidates in the Douglas Street Hall on May 28, it was announced today.

The meeting has been postponed from May 25, as previously arranged.

Suicide Bid Feared As Girl Flees Ward

'She May Walk Into the Sea'

An extensive police search is under way for an emotionally disturbed 15-year-old girl who fled from Royal Jubilee Hospital Thursday night.

HE'S ANGRY

Priest Fails To Get Action On 'Hell-Hole'

By FRANK BUTTER

A priest from northern B.C. left Victoria today "pretty damn mad"; he couldn't get government action to bring peace to his Indian community ward since March 3.

The girl's mother said her daughter recently slashed her wrists and "may now be walking into the sea."

It is believed the girl made escape from the hospital through an open window in the ward.

Her mother said the girl has no money and knows no one in Victoria. She does not believe her daughter would know how to get to Vancouver.

"The hospital told me they thought she might be coming home, but we haven't seen or heard from her," the mother said.

"I told them there were shootings and stabbings and assaults almost every night in Lower Post."

WANTS OFFICER

Father Leveque said he had asked for an RCMP officer to be stationed at the community.

Nearest police station is at Watson Lake, 15 miles away, in the Yukon.

RCMP Assistant Commissioner Douglas Forrest said it would not be possible to send a man to Lower Post.

However, he said he thought the Watson Lake detachment could be reinforced.

He said he was sympathetic to Father Leveque's plea but shortage of manpower made it impossible to fulfill all requests for extra police.

The commissioner said he would have seen Father Leveque, but he hadn't been asked. He said the priest instead saw "one of my staff officers."

Father Leveque said Lower Post consists of an Indian school, which he runs, a one-room public school, a beer parlor and 20 homes.

GOOD-TIME TOWN

The population consists of Indians and white miners. Father Leveque said the miners are corrupting the Indians and treat Lower Post as a "good-time town" because there is no policeman.

He said in one recent month there had been 31 convictions for offences involving liquor, firearms, assaults, contributing to delinquency and wilful damage.

Travelling magistrate J. E. Champion wrote Attorney-General Robert Bonner that the town was "a real hell-hole" said Father Leveque.

ILLEGITIMACY

Father Leveque said almost every Indian girl in the community had illegitimate children, and there is a high incidence of venereal disease.

He said staff at the Indian school are awakened at nights by gunshots from the main street. A young Indian shot in the thigh six months ago is still in serious condition in hospital, he said.

"I don't want to see our work destroyed by a bunch of hoodlums," said the priest.

"These people in Victoria are doing nothing—that's why I am so damn mad."

'Good Citizen' Succumbs at 78

Francis Edward Winslow, the famous house of help for jobless and needy citizens, died early today.

He was a direct descendant of the Edward Winslow who crossed to America in the Mayflower and became the first governor of Massachusetts.

Mr. Winslow had been in poor health for several years. He was taken to hospital from his home at 104 Craigdarroch around 4 p.m. Thursday and died 10 hours later.

His titles include: honorary life vice-president, Queen Alexandra Solarium; president, Royal Jubilee Hospital; chairman, University School and St. Margaret's School; regional citizenship council; member of the board, Canadian Corps of Commissioners; chairman, Dependents' Board of Trustees.

CHEST PRESIDENT He was president of Victoria Community Chest for 10 years; president of Victoria Nursing Home committees; a director of Victoria Welfare Council, and chairman of the finance committee which directed the building of the present Christ Church Cathedral.

His titles include: honorary life vice-president, Queen Alexandra Solarium; president, Royal Jubilee Hospital; chairman, University School and St. Margaret's School; regional citizenship council; member of the board, Canadian Corps of Commissioners; chairman, Dependents' Board of Trustees.

MAYHEW MANAGER In 1913 Mr. Winslow became an active Liberal and managed Hon. R. W. Mayhew's campaign when he won the Victoria seat in a federal election.

He was one of the founders of a movement to make Vancouver Island a separate province and attended its first meeting in 1936.

Born in Fredericton, N.B., on Dec. 2, 1883, Mr. Winslow joined the Bank of Montreal in 1900 and stayed with it until 1906, when he entered the manufacturing business in Fredericton.

He was married on Dec. 2, 1908, to Margaret A. Thompson, daughter of Senator Frederick P. Thompson. Their elder son, Lt.-Col. E. T. Winslow, is in business in Vancouver; their younger son, Frederick, was killed in the Second World War.

PRIVATE SERVICE There are two daughters, Miss Pamela Winslow at home at 1044 Craigdarroch, and Mrs. Peter Bradford at Nanaimo.

Canon George Biddle of St. John's Anglican Church will conduct private funeral services in the Winslow home Saturday morning, followed by cremation.

Mr. Winslow's last wish was that anyone wishing to send flowers should donate their value to the Gorge Road Hospital instead.

ASK The TIMES

Q. What is the origin of the May Day parades and Maypole dancing on May 1 in England? G.B.P.

A. May Day, according to Virgil, began in ancient times when Roman youths danced and sang in honour of Flora, goddess of fruits and flowers. The English consecrated May Day to Robin Hood and Maid Marian because their favorite outlaw died on that day. Dancing around the Maypole is a remnant of the nature-worship of the past.

Q. Would you please tell me who I would write to in order to procure information about Australia and New Zealand. W.D.

A. Write to the British Commonwealth Information Service, 607 West Hastings Street, Vancouver.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Drool With Delight Over These Time-Saving Mixes

By PENNY SAVER

"Cake mixes? . . . Never! I prefer to measure out my own ingredients and have an old-fashioned home-made cake like mother used to make."

All very well when mother was making them, but what's a poor working girl to do when she arrives home just in time to throw a chop on to fry and is too tired later at night to get out the recipe book? She takes Penny's advice, of course, and gets in a stock of cake mixes.

Life with cake mixes need not be ordinary and dull. Take a half hour some day to inspect the grocery shelves thoroughly. The variety is astonishing and mouth-watering.

There is a versatile mix that becomes gingerbread when an egg and some water are added; gingernaps when butter, an egg and water are added. Two packages sell for 39 cents, each one making a cake eight inches square.

If you have exotic tastes, try mixes of raspberry or lemon-lime flavor. Mix sells at two for 29 cents, and by using both packages you have a family-size layer cake.

There isn't even a need to worry about frostings as these also come in packages, just requiring butter and hot water to make interesting toppings like toffee fudge, chocolate fudge (39 cents a box) or lemon fluff (32 cents a box).

For a special weekend "buy" you have a choice of date nut, fudge nut, butter pecan, cherry almond and apple sauce raisin at three for $1, ordinarily selling at 41 cents each. A package makes an eight-inch square and only requires one egg plus water and a good mixing arm, if your kitchen is minus an electric mixer like Penny's!

If you feel inspired by Penny's new-found enthusiasm call her at EV 2-3131 for product names and places to find them.

Tighten the Strings, Pop!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Do you think cendo and winds up fortissimo that two children, 14 and 16, Yes, there is a repeat with a who get a generous allowance, should put the arm on their father for extra money to buy a Mother's Day present? If I don't give it to them, they wouldn't have enough money to buy a Mother's Day gift and she would be hurt. I have been buying Mother her gift (from the children) for years, but want to know if you think it is right.

POP.

DEAR POP: You are a softie. There would be more sentiment in a card, purchased with their "own" hard-saved money than a gift to Mother for which Father paid.

DEAR ABBY: I have always gotten a big kick out of your columns but never thought I'd be writing in with a problem. Here it is: Every girl I date more than three or four times wants to get married. I am no Casanova, Abby, but I have this trouble with every girl I start dating. I come from a well-to-do family and have no money worries, but I don't brag about it. I like girls but I don't enjoy being put on the spot with talk of marriage. I don't want to stop dating but can't think of any other way out.

J. F.

DEAR J. F.: I have some shattering news for you. All girls want to get married, and if you aren't in the market to buy, better not hang around the merchandise mart.

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column interested me very much. It was from a boy who said he had been kissed in "Italian." I am an Italian musician and would like to know exactly what an Italian style kiss is. Thank you.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

How to Reduce Knees? Simple—Spank Yourself

Q. "I have large knee bones and fat on them. Can anyone give me an exercise to reduce them?"

A. We cannot reduce the bones, but the following exercise will be helpful in reducing the fat. Lie on your stomach and lean on your elbows. Bend the left knee, pulling the left leg back as far as comfortable. Return left leg to floor. Bend the right knee, pulling the leg back. Return leg to floor. Continue alternating left and right, trying to spank yourself with your feet.

Q. "I am 13 years old, five feet 2½ inches tall. I weigh 115 pounds. I will be going to high school in the fall and would like to lose some weight in the waist and hips before then. My measurements are bust 35 inches, waist 27 and hips 37."

Q. "My mother will not let me diet, so do you have any ideas?"

A. Since you are troubled with jowls, I judge you are not teenage girls. Overweight and decreased resiliency of the skin can be factors. However, muscle sag may also play a part. The following exercise is indicated. Lift the left corner of the mouth (using the muscles only) up toward the left ear. Hold a few moments. Relax. Lift the right corner of the mouth. Hold. Relax. Continue alternating left and right. Do this exercise very slowly.

Q. "Is electrolysis dangerous or painful? Can it do harm if used to remove hairs from the breast?"

A. Electrolysis is not dangerous to health. It is not painful. You will experience the sensation of a very small pinprick. The important thing is to be sure that you have a well-trained and well-qualified operator.

I have carefully investigated the question of removing hairs from the breast by talking with one of New York's distinguished dermatologists and also a famous breast cancer expert. Hairs can be removed safely.

Q. "I am 13 years old, five feet 2½ inches tall. I weigh 115 pounds. I will be going to high school in the fall and would like to lose some weight in the waist and hips before then. My measurements are bust 35 inches, waist 27 and hips 37."

Q. "My mother will not let me diet, so do you have any ideas?"

Please answer in your column."

A. I agree with your mother. You are only a very little overweight, just on the plump side. I imagine she would agree to letting you eliminate candy bars and soda fountain goodies from your diet.

Difficult Task Confronts Nurses

A special committee named to investigate safe levels of patient care in finding its job difficult, the president of the Registered Nurses Association of British Columbia told delegates to the group's 50th annual meeting here Thursday.

Ada George of Kimberley said "the question of quality, which both nurses and the public instinctively judge, will prove difficult to resolve into a form which can be presented to the administrators, the public and boards of health agencies."

She said quality must be presented in the report so that

PLEASURE AFLOAT

One Quick Move And Ker-splash!

By DON INGHAM

Suppliers of boating equipment are most generous with printed material regarding boating in general, and their products in particular, and generally do a good job in the field of press agency.

But I've had a dandy in my desk drawer for a few weeks.

It's a picture sent on by an outboard manufacturer of two anglers, one of whom has a bass on his line ready for netting by his partner.

Our hero is the chap playing the fish. He is a big jolly man, with lots of chins, lots of whiskers, and lots of waist line. He also has lots of foolishness, because he is standing up in the boat.

Granted the boat, with the motor of supplier of the picture hanging discreetly on the stern, is sturdy and broad-beamed.

That, though, is not enough. The picture clearly shows our hero with one foot on each side of a thwart, and you can count on it that the bottom of the boat is a clutter of tackle boxes, fuel cans, lunch boxes, coats, and beer bottles—from the look of the fisherman.

One sudden move by the fellow with the net, one unpredictable leap by the fish, and the angler standing up is going to lose his balance. He may land in the boat, but the chances are that he won't. The water doesn't look deep, and if he's hooked a bass it isn't cold, but that is no excuse.

Three Members of Family Drowned

There was a particularly ghastly accident at St. Mary's Lake on Salt Spring Island seven years ago, when three members of one family were drowned, while two survived. According to reports, one of them had been standing up and flycasting immediately prior to their boat overturning and spilling them into the water.

Certainly it was seven years ago, and perhaps a freak accident. The boat was small and overcrowded, and some of the party could not swim. But even under the most favorable circumstances I think a person should remain seated in a boat except when there is a good reason for standing. Water is an implacable enemy when treated with contempt.

I think the picture was a blunder really, although same company has mentioned in a later release that one should never stand up in a moving boat. It's better still not to stand up at all.

The same release does have some excellent suggestions for operators of small boats. Even though they sound elementary they need to be kept in mind because we humans are notoriously careless in our habits.

For instance, before boarding a boat, tighten mooring lines to make sure it doesn't slip away.

Step aboard as close to midships as possible, keeping the body low. Do not jump into the boat, and do not step aboard with arms full of gear.

Before leaving the dock make sure required emergency equipment is aboard.

If the gas tank is portable, remove it from the boat for filling, and wipe it clean before putting it back. If it is a fixed tank, remove spilled gasoline before starting.

Public Hearing Called On Ice Cream Truck Issue

Victoria's citizens will be lot of fun and happiness to a said the mayor. "All you are given a chance by city council lot of children," said Ald. doing is allowing a retail store to say how they feel about Edgeland. "I don't think it is on wheels into residential areas after council has stopped allowing a mobile ice cream store from doing the same and for good reason."

Aldermen Thursday voted to call a public hearing before deciding whether or not to permit Tastee-Freez Ltd. to operate an ice cream bar from a truck.

Date of the hearing was not set but it likely will be May 24 next regular council meeting.

STATEMENT

Decision for a hearing was made after a stalemate developed in which neither proponent nor opponents on council could win a majority.

Mayor R. B. Wilson and Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson strongly opposed the mobile ice cream bar while Ald. Michael Griffin, Ald. Geoffrey Edgeland and Ald. J. L. W. McLean said it should be permitted.

CHIEFS OPPOSED

Ald. Wilson pointed out the medical health officer, police chief and fire chief opposed the application. She said it would be unfair to ice cream parlors that now pay property taxes which a mobile unit would not have to pay.

Contending that a child might be killed running out to the ice cream vending truck, she said the application should be refused for safety reasons alone.

"This will be dangerous for little children. That's the thing that worries me most."

LITTLE DANGER

Ald. Edgeland and Ald. McLean said there would be little danger to children.

"I think it would bring a

QUEEN 'LIZ
CRUISE SHIP

LIVERPOOL, England (AP)—

The Cunard Line said today it is switching the liner Queen Elizabeth from the transatlantic run to cruising next winter.

Cunard officials admitted they are cashing in on the dollar-saving cruise market because of dwindling passenger traffic on the North Atlantic during the winter and keener competition from European shipping lines.

The 83,000-ton liner will schedule three five-day cruises from New York to Nassau in February and March.

Passenger capacity will be reduced from the normal 2,200 to not more than 1,300, all having the run of the ship. Minimum fare will be £66 ($200).

Investigation had indicated that in the tourist industry "there are too many hands pulling in too many different directions."

No New Taxes For Liberal Pension Plan

A Liberal government would set up a national contributory pension plan that would require no new taxes to finance it, Esquimalt-Saanich federal candidate David Gross said Thursday night.

Mr. Gross told a meeting at Sooke Community Hall that the plan would provide a pension at 70 of up to $295 a month for a married couple.

The minimum old age pension would be $75 for a single person and $140 for a couple. This would apply to people who were too old to contribute to the over-all plan.

Mr. Gross said the plan would be completely financed by contributions from employer and employee.

The amount of the contributions would be less than any existing private pension plan, he said.

The pension benefits would be "portable"—that is, they would be transferred with the employee if he changed his job, with no loss of back payments.

Mr. Gross said private plans could still function as a complement to the national scheme.

Mr. Gross said the Conservatives had promised "some kind" of pension plan five years ago. "But all they have done after five years in office is to set up two official inquiries to try and find out how to do what they promised."

Mr. Gross said the figures he cited were only immediate goals.

The more our economy grows, the more we pull ourselves out of the present stagnation, the better the conditions we can offer to our old people,"

Mr. Gross said anyone will be able to join the plan and receive its full benefits up to the age of 60. After that the minimum $75 pension will apply.

Solicitor Paul Hess will represent Aachen at the examination which will begin in about two weeks before special investigator Charles Sale.

PART OF WAGES

Mrs. Allee Kisielis of suburban Sandwich East township was given the nine 16th century paintings while working for Russian troops occupying Albrechtberg Castle in Meissen. The troops reportedly gave her the paintings as part of her wages.

The paintings were originally in the Aachen Museum and were stored for safety in Meissen during the war.

Mrs. Kisielis says she lost one of the paintings while she was en route to Canada in 1945, had sold two for $250 and $300 to a New York dealer and had sold the rest to Detroit dealer for $550.

BLAINE COULCHER

METEOROLOGIST

City Weather

Lovely After Arctic Spell

LESLIE MILLIN

Victorians grumbling about unseasonable wind storms and the lack of sunshine may be unaware that among them is one who regards 76 mph winds as no more than a spring breeze.

He is Blaine Coulcher, a 29-year-old former Victoria College student, who has just completed a five-year stint in the Arctic, some it within 400 miles of the north pole, and is now stationed in Victoria at HMCS Dockyard.

ISOLATED SPOTS

A meteorologist and weather forecaster by profession, Mr. Coulcher served with the meteorology service of the Department of Transport at outposts such as Frobisher Bay, Resolute, Isachsen, Mould Bay and Alert.

These stations, which have as their main function the supply of weather forecasting information for civil and military aviation, are isolated most of the year amid snow storms violent enough to suffocate a man if he is foolish enough to turn into the wind.

In Frobisher Bay, where he was officer in charge for a year, one of the more disturbing weather phenomena was ice fog.

Arctic winds and melting ice floes combine to push a cold, wet mist over the 1,500 person community that can last up to a week.

The intensity of the fog can be measured by the number of people in the bars," says Mr. Archer. (There are eight in Frobisher.)

"On the first day, only the regulars are there, but on the second day, the clientele is about doubled.

"By the third day, the bars are packed so that you can hardly get into them, but as soon as the ice fog clears they are almost empty again, because everyone wants to enjoy the good weather while it lasts."

For the more spartan communities of Resolute, Isachsen, Mould Bay and Alert, entertainment consists of operating the ham radio and playing host to stranded guests.

20,000-MILE SPAN

Shortwave radio reception is excellent—the station at Resolute was once able to talk to a part of explorers at the South Pole, over 26,000 miles away.

Towards the end of 1961 blizzard conditions abruptly stranded almost every VIP passing through Resolute, including a CBC show troupe that kept up a two-day show in the middle of the dark season until their plane could take off again.

"Going up to the Arctic never hurts anyone," says Blaine Coulcher, "as long as he keeps busy. We work a standard 56-hour week on the meteorological stations.

"But five years is long enough. I'm going to stay in Victoria for a while."

'WRONG IN THE PAST'

Candidates Wary Of Opinion Polls

By FRANK RUTTER

Despite the fact that they personally may be favored, local federal election candidates today put little faith in either the impact or accuracy of public opinion polls on how Canada may vote June 18.

The latest Gallup Poll shows the Liberal party ahead with 35 per cent of the committed vote. The Conservatives have 38 per cent, the New Democratic Party 9 per cent and "others" 8 per cent.

Local candidates, questioned about the validity of such polls, gave these answers:

George Chatterton, Conservative, of Esquimalt-Saanich:

"Take the Gallup Poll of 1957—that in effect is my answer.

(It showed a Liberal victory, and the Tories won.)

"I'm skeptical of the significance and value of individual polls, but trends could be significant," he said.

Foster Isherwood, Liberal candidate in Victoria:

"Polls are just straws in the wind; you can toss a straw up today or tomorrow and the wind changes always.

They are as accurate as the straw in the wind, too, I think the Liberals will win despite the Gallop Poll."

Harry Fanthorpe, NDP, Victoria:

"They have been wrong in the past, especially in politics."

He cited former U.S. president Harry Truman's victory against the poll opinions and the 1957 Canadian prediction.

"I would say the reason is that people change at the last minute. There are always a great many fence-sitters. But the number of undecided voters gives encouragement to campaigners."

James Audain, Social Credit, Victoria:

"I think they're a very good thing, but I don't think people should bank on them. The people ahead sometimes lose votes because of the polls. It seems they have a better effect for the people at the bottom than those at the top. They do spur on the people who are behind to greater effort."

The latest poll shows 21 per cent of those questioned were undecided. The undecided vote is highest in Quebec and Ontario, 22 per cent; in Western Canada it is 19 per cent.

Question asked in the poll was: "If a federal election were held today which party's candidate do you think you would favor?"

The results:

	Progressive Conservatives	Liberals	NDP	CCF	Other
March election, 1958	54%	34%	9%	3%
January, 1961	38	44	11	7
September	38	42	12	8
November	37	43	12	8
January, 1962	38	42	12	8
March	38	43	11	8
Today	38	45	9	8

Regional standings have not been published by the poll since November, 1961. A record of what has been reported is again compared with the vote in 1958.

	Progressive Quebec	Conservatives	Liberals	NDP	CCF	Other
January, 1961	25%	65%	2%	8%
September	32	47	5	16
November	33	50	4	13
Today	32	53	3	12

Parents of incoming pupils will attend a meeting of Cedar Hill PTA on Monday at 8 p.m. in the school. After installation of officers, two films will be shown.

FIRST FLIGHT BY CANADIAN-BUILT PLANE

Victoria Daily Times 31
FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1962

'Insane Notion' Made History

By JOHN MANNING

On Sept. 24, 1910, dawn broke quietly over Lansdowne Field. By 4:30 a.m. there was enough light in the farm shed for William Gibson to make a final check on the controls of his strange flying machine.

"Seems all right," he said to a helper. "Have a look outside and see if anyone's watching."

Gibson was taking no chances on being further ridiculed by the townspeople of Victoria. Following his testing of an engine out at Beacon Hill Park a number of citizens had greeted him in the street by flapping their arms at him. Even his minister had tried to talk him out of going ahead with "the insane notion" of flying that weird invention of yours."

He 'Got a Horse'

Nevertheless, Gibson dismissed the "Twin-plane" at his workshop in Victoria and transported it secretly by horse carriage to Dean's Farm near Mount Tolmie. There it was re-assembled in a secluded shed and the take-off date set for Sept. 8.

The plane itself was a carefully engineered work of genius. Gibson had even included baffles in the gas tank. The aircraft's 34-foot-long spruce frame was built of ash and blue waterproof silk obtained from Jeune Brothers, tent manufacturers of Victoria. When finally assembled the whole flying machine weighed but 500 pounds.

Credit Union Theft Brings Jail Term

VANCOUVER (CP)—A former credit union executive who bilked his organization out of $3,900 was sentenced to 18 months in jail Wednesday. Glen Ramsden, 32, pleaded guilty last week to obtaining $2,100 from the British Ropes Canadian factory credit union by passing forged cheques.

He also admitted taking an additional $1,800 that he had failed to deposit in the credit union account.

In passing sentence, Magistrate Oscar Orr said he was highly impressed with Ramsden's ability to rise from a prison term 10 years ago to a $300-a-year job as a cost accountant.

"I should send you to the penitentiary, but I don't think I will because of your marvellous comeback in the past," Magistrate Orr told Ramsden. "But the fact is this was a breach of trust."

Sailor Fined $150 After Fast Chase

A mile-long chase on May 2 along Gorge Road at speeds up to 70 miles an hour has cost a young sailor a $150 fine for dangerous driving.

Sancti police court on Thursday was told that David S. Woodruff, HMCS Stettler, was chased by Const. Ted Owens at speeds between 65 and 70 miles an hour.

Const. Owens said the stretch of road on which the chase took place has four or five bends in it and at the time was occupied by many children—riding bicycles and walking on the sidewalk.

He said Woodruff told him he knew he was driving at about 60 miles an hour in a 30 speed zone but had "just put a new engine in the car and was trying it out."

In court Woodruff, who pleaded not guilty, said he thought he was going at only 40 to 45 miles an hour. His licence was suspended.

BULKY BCE EVIDENCE HAULED INTO COURT

VANCOUVER (CP)—The first evidence in the B.C. Supreme Court lawsuit over expropriation of the B.C. Electric began arriving at the Vancouver Court House today—in trucks.

Hundreds of pounds of BCE records now in the hands of the Crown-owned B.C. Hydro and Power Authority will be hauled into court and tendered as exhibits. The documents date as far back as 10 years.

TO TEACHER, WITH LOVE

Receiving one of the last apples she will get from devoted pupils is Miss Victoria Lemmax, who will retire in June after 43 years of teaching in Greater Victoria. First a teacher in Saanichton and Strawberry Vale School, and later principal of Tolmie Primary, Miss Lemmax estimated about 5,320 boys and girls have passed through her classes. Especially fond of the primary grades, she has taught in the same Grade 1 classroom since her appointment to Quadra Primary in 1924. "Teacher's pets" above are six-year-olds Fritz Nyholm and Alan Thibadeau.

U.S. Force Considered For Laos

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States leaders were reported today to be considering the possibility of more forceful action to prevent Laos from falling to pro-Communist forces if the spreading military crisis cannot be brought quickly under control.

President Kennedy and his chief diplomatic and military advisers were following developments in the Southeast Asian kingdom closely. They were understood to consider the events so far in the renewed fighting as both discouraging and alarming.

Kennedy met with his advisers at the White House late Thursday and further talks were held at the state department.

The pro-Western government stronghold of Nam Tha fell last Sunday and government forces have been in retreat since.

Without a strong base of military resistance against Red advances the whole country would soon be jeopardized and so would the political policy which the United States has been pursuing in an effort to establish a permanent compromise peace. This policy calls for the formation of a coalition government under neutralist control, headed by neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

The U.S. has charged that the Red assault on Nam Tha constituted a breach of the year-old ceasefire.

STILL HOPEFUL

Authorities here have no real hope the Reds will retreat from territory they have won, but still believe it might be possible for the cease-fire to be re-established.

Kennedy decided about a year ago against employing U.S. forces in Laos. The present crisis, it was learned, has caused Kennedy to order a new look at the whole situation.

India Elects President

NEW DELHI (AP)—Vice-President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, 73, has been elected president of India to succeed the retiring Rajendra Prasad.

Coun. Sammon, emerging from a meeting with Agriculture Minister Frank Richter, said a permanent meat inspection service should be in operation by Oct. 1.

Coun. Sammon led a health board delegation seeking provincial help following the board's disclosure that a city butcher had sold unspected beef liver riddled with abscesses.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

In other developments, the growing controversy saw:

The 100,000-strong B.C. Federation of Labor repeat its demands for a government meat inspection service and circularizing all its union affiliates urging members to demand to see government inspection stamps before buying meat;

City council approved a motion favoring prosecution of butchers if necessary to safeguard consumers from unwholesome meat.

Coun. Sammon said the municipalities in the metro health region will have to pass enabling bylaws first before the temporary inspection can begin.

Draft copies of a bylaw prohibiting sale of uninspected meat—similar to the one thrown out by a city council policy reversal in 1956—will be prepared by the provincial government "in the next two or three days."

SUPPLY 'VET'

Once the bylaws are passed by the municipalities, the health board will set up a temporary inspection depot immediately and the province

HUNDREDS ARRESTED BY LISBON POLICE

LISBON (AP)—Police swept into the University of Lisbon at dawn today and arrested 87 students, hunger strikers and more than 900 sympathizers in a crackdown on university demonstrators.

At a professor's urging, the demonstrators put up no resistance. But the hunger strikers, spearheading a boycott of classes by nearly 5,000 other students, vowed to continue their fast until Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's dictatorship gives in to their demands.

Red China Troops Among Refugees

HONG KONG (AP)—Hundreds of soldiers and militiamen—some carrying weapons with them—were among refugees streaming into this British Crown colony from Communist China Wednesday, local newspapers report.

Government officials refused to comment on the reports, and reporters are barred from the border area.

Five Hong Kong newspapers, including the Conservative English-language Morning Post, carried the reports of the military refugees.

The Post said 300 military men crossed over Wednesday and that villagers in the border region reported Hong Kong police quickly surrounded them.

The Chinese-language Hong Kong Times said the troops carried white flags and their leaders asked that they be sent to Formosa to join Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist army.

SURGE INCREASES
The surge of refugees from Red China has increased to about 10,000 a month. Because of the overcrowded conditions in the colony, British officials

Quake Rocks Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A strong earthquake rocked Mexico City today, cracking walls, toppling debris into the streets, and causing a number of casualties.

Three workmen were feared dead near Acapulco where a highway tunnel under construction collapsed.

Suicide Bid Feared As Girl Flees Ward

'She May Walk Into the Sea'

An extensive police search is under way for an emotionally disturbed 15-year-old girl who fled from Royal Jubilee Hospital Thursday night.

HE'S ANGRY

Priest Fails To Get Action On 'Hell Hole'

By FRANK RUTTER

A priest from northern B.C. left Victoria today "pretty damn mad"; he couldn't get government action to bring peace to his Indian community described by a visiting magistrate as "a real hell-hole."

Father Yvon Leveque, six feet two, an ex-wrestler, came to see deputy attorney-general Dr. Gilbert Kennedy and RCMP officials.

He brought a petition from Lower Post, a community of about 250 at Mile 620 on the Alaska Highway, near the Yukon border.

"All I want is some peace and order," he told reporters. "I just don't understand these government people."

"I told them there were shootings and stabbings and assaults almost every night in Lower Post."

WANTS OFFICER

Father Leveque said he had asked for an RCMP officer to be stationed at the community.

Nearest police station is at Watson Lake, 15 miles away, in the Yukon.

RCMP Assistant Commissioner Douglas Forrest said it would not be possible to send a man to Lower Post.

However, he said he thought the Watson Lake detachment could be reinforced.

He said he was sympathetic to Father Leveque's plea but shortage of manpower made it impossible to fulfil all requests for extra police.

The commissioner said he would have seen Father Leveque, but he hadn't been asked. He said the priest instead saw "one of my staff officers."

Father Leveque said Lower Post consists of an Indian school, which he runs, a one-room public school, a beer parlor and 20 homes.

GOOD-TIME TOWN

The population consists of Indians and white miners. Father Leveque said the miners are corrupting the Indians and treat Lower Post as a "good-time town" because there is no policeman.

He said in one recent month there had been 31 convictions for offences involving liquor, firearms, assaults, contributing to delinquency and wilful damage.

Travelling magistrate J. E. Champion wrote Attorney General Robert Bonner that the town was "a real hell-hole," said Father Leveque.

He will visit New York, Texas, and Washington, D.C., on the three-week tour.

John Dodd, 1460 Grant St., will go to Camp Borden, Ontario, early in July for a seven weeks' senior leaders' course at the RCAF base.

The accident—which saw four people injured including Hackett—was a head-on crash on the Pat Bay Highway near Elk Lake involving Hackett's car and one driven by Edward Whiting, 3936 Dawe.

The accident—which saw four people injured including Hackett—was a head-on crash on the Pat Bay Highway near Elk Lake involving Hackett's car and one driven by Edward Whiting, 3936 Dawe.

On successful completion of the course, they qualify for air cadet wings and private pilots' licenses.

ILLEGITIMACY

Father Leveque said almost every Indian girl in the community had illegitimate children, and there is a high incidence of venereal disease.

He said staff at the Indian school are awakened at nights by gunshots from the main street. A young Indian shot in the thigh six months ago is still in serious condition in hospital, he said.

"I don't want to see our work destroyed by a bunch of hoodlums," said the priest.

"These people in Victoria are doing nothing—that's why I am so damn mad."

The girl—believed to be wearing a dark sweater and dark slacks—is described as five feet, one inch tall, 98 pounds and blonde.

She may be carrying a white purse and could be headed for Nanaimo or Vancouver.

She may also be attempting to take her own life.

SINCE MARCH 3

Royal Jubilee medical administrator Dr. Murray Anderson said the girl had been in the hospital observation ward since March 3.

The girl's mother said her daughter recently slashed her wrists and "may now be walking into the sea."

It is believed the girl made escape from the hospital through an open window in the ward.

Her mother said the girl has no money and knows no one in Victoria. She does not believe her daughter would know how to get to Vancouver.

The hospital told me they thought she might be coming home, but we haven't seen or heard from her," the mother said.

"I am afraid she intends to take her own life..."

Dr. Anderson described the teenager as a "disturbed girl" but gave no further details.

At press time police and RCMP still had no trace of the girl's whereabouts.

PLANNED

My husband talked to her on the phone last night, and we now realize she had something planned," the mother said.

The girl's parents—who live in Nanaimo—were to visit her at the hospital today.

"When we did come and see her we would take her for drives around the waterfront and Beacon Hill Park," said the mother.

"I am afraid she may have got an idea about the salt water from these drives..."

The mother said there was no chance her daughter might have fled with a companion.

"She has no boy friends," she said.

According to her mother the girl had one grey sweater, two brown sweaters, two pairs of dark slacks, a coat and a purse with her at the hospital.

The police bulletin says the girl is wearing a black sweater and blue jeans—but her mother says the girl possesses neither.

Minor Fined $20

Thomas A. Scott, 20, HMCS Naden was fined $20 in city police court today for being a minor in possession of alcohol over 30 mph, $20.

Alexander Smart, 123 Bushby, careless driving, $50, failing to remain at scene, $150, and licence suspended.

Robert McLean, 1320 Alford, over 30 mph, $20.

PRIVATE SERVICE

There are two daughters, Miss Pamela Winslow at home at 1044 Craigdarroch, and Mrs. Peter Bradford at Nanaimo.

Canon George Biddle of St. John's Anglican Church will conduct private funeral services in the Winslow home Saturday morning, followed by cremation.

Mr. Winslow's last wish was that anyone wishing to send flowers should donate their value to the Gorge Road Hospital instead.

4-H CLUBS FEATURED AT FAIR

More than 200 members of Vancouver Island 4-H Clubs south of the Malahat will show their farm animals and will participate in competitions at the Victoria Jaycees Fair next Wednesday.

The 4-H events are one of the feature attractions of the week-long fair, which opens Monday.

The major event will be the club demonstration contests starting at 4 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday and again at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday. Sixteen clubs will be represented.

There are two daughters, Miss Pamela Winslow at home at 1044 Craigdarroch, and Mrs. Peter Bradford at Nanaimo.

Canon George Biddle of St. John's Anglican Church will conduct private funeral services in the Winslow home Saturday morning, followed by cremation.

Mr. Winslow's last wish was that anyone wishing to send flowers should donate their value to the Gorge Road Hospital instead.

ASK The TIMES

Q. What is the origin of the May Day parades and Maypole dancing on May 1 in England? G.B.P.

A. May Day, according to Virgil, began in ancient times when Roman youths danced and sang in honour of Flora, goddess of fruits and flowers.

The English consecrated May Day to Robin Hood and Maid Marian because the favorite outlaw died on that day. Dancing around the Maypole is a remnant of the nature worship of the past.

Q. Would you please tell me who I would write to in order to procure information about Australia and New Zealand? W.D.

A. Write to the British Commonwealth Information Service, 602 West Hastings Street, Vancouver.

A ROOF OVER YOUR HEAD IS IMPORTANT TOO

Every effort is being made to overcome a critical housing situation which is developing at Victoria Riding Academy. Record entry lists for three horse shows on the Victoria Day holiday weekend has hammers and saws going full tilt. Temporary stalls are being built in the academy's covered practice ring to help accommodate at least 27 mainland horses coming for the competition, and show manager Don Carley, shown here looking over the emergency shelter work with a competitor, Grady Gay, estimates total entries will reach between 112 and 115. There will be a junior show on Saturday, May 19, a dressage show on Sunday and a senior, open show on Monday, all three starting at 9 a.m. on the academy grounds, Cedar Hill Cross Roads next to Uplands Golf Club.

MONTE ROBERTS

How to start the day right, or, telephones should be seen and not heard prior to 9 a.m.

Phone rings, I answer, voice, feminine, says:

Is that you?

Well don't you think it's awful? I mean really, and such a good cause.

Whatwhatwhat?

I mean, I love animals just as you do, and all that, but I think something should be done, really I do, don't you?

Done about what?

Well, the Cats Protection League had a bazaar, and it made $500 and the Protestant Orphanage had a bazaar, and it only made $300, and I think you should do something about it in your column, don't you? Thank you.

You're welcome.

Phone rings again, I answer (fool that I am) and voice, feminine, says:

Is that you?

I love animals and all that, just the way you do, except cats. I don't like cats because they are killers. Something should be done.

Whatwhatwhat?

You should do something about it in your column. Cats are killing off all the birds.

They are?

Yes. I live in Saanich. I've lived in Saanich for years. Every year, there are fewer birds. All due to the cats. You know that tourist slogan we have, the slogan Follow the Birds to Victoria? Pretty soon there won't be any birds to follow. Few years ago, there were all kinds of birds. Now there are hardly any birds at all. All due to the cats. Cats are killers. I love animals, but not cats. Cats are killers. You should do something about it in your column.

Telephone should be seen and not heard, prior to 9 a.m.
